Ag Lenders is privileged to have industry experts Nat Dibuduo of Allied Grape Growers and Glen Goto of Raisin Bargaining Association provide an update on the 2009 wine and raisin grape crops and what to expect in years to come.

Nat DiBuduo, President of Allied Grape Growers, is a native of the San Joaquin Valley, being born and raised in the Fresno/Clovis area. Nat attended California State University, Fresno where he earned a B.S. in Plant Science/Viticulture and a minor in Business. Nat is also a graduate of the California Ag Leadership Program. His roots in the wine grape industry run deep. His family was among the first to plant varietal wine grapes in the San Joaquin Valley back in the early 1970's. Nat's involvement with wine grape production and processing through a family owned winery has given him a large breadth of industry experience. Nat's experience is virtually unmatched.

Glen Goto, Chief Executive Officer, the Raisin bargaining Association (RBA) is a long-time Madera County raisin grower and member of the Association, which negotiates prices on behalf of its 1,500 members. Along with his duties as RBA CEO, Glen continues to operate the family vineyard in Madera and he serves on the Raisin Administrative Committee, California Raisin Marketing Board, CSU Fresno Viticulture and Enology Industry Advisory Board, Agricultural Council of California Board of Directors and currently is the Board Vice President of the Pinedale Public Utility District. Glen graduated with a BA degree in Business Administration from Humboldt State University and is a graduate of the California Agricultural Leadership Program Class XXI.
